SUMMARY

SC-872 is back! We have introduced our new cadets to the wonders of our unit. We are continuing to get back into our workflow; jobs and teams also have just started within the unit. Our cadets have also started wearing their uniforms, showing their AFJROTC pride within Wando's hallways.

Our rising Freshmen went through rigorous training prior to school starting in order to be prepared for their first day as cadets. Our Upperclassmen helped run the show. But before Prep School took place, some of our cadets entered into the Citadel's Barracks for CLC Training!

TEAM SQUADRON

With our jobs and teams starting, drill has their eyes set early on national competitions, having a more oriented team for nationals and having a general drill team. Honor Guard and Color Guard have started teaching new cadets the mannerisms and ways to show proper respect for their areas of focus. Marksmanship has begun teaching their cadets the basic rules and regulations of handling air rifles; our marksmanship team will begin training in September. As for Raider, new faces have appeared for the fitness team and they have understood that this team will take effort and lots of grit. Aero has also begun its rocketry career with new cadets by the commander's side.

MISSION SUPPORT

Mission Support, like the other squadrons has been working itself back into a groove. C/ Reynolds is working hard to plan recruiting trips to other schools to keep our numbers up! Mission support has also been on a search for a new Kitty Hawk Commander to teach students that require academic assistance.

Service before self, excellence in all we do.

LOGISTICS READINESS SQUADRON

Logistics Squadron has been dishing out proper uniforms for the upcoming cadets, as well as updating upperclassmen ranks and achievement ribbons. Admin and Supply have been working hand in hand to swiftly achieve a total up-to-date JROTC unit! Admin has also just recently introduced a new badge that is earned by cadets maintaining a 3.5 GPA or higher, known as the AEF Badge. Supply has now begun giving cadets a new uniform! Known as OCPs; our cadets seem to have wanted these for quite some time now, seemingly more comfortable.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS SQUADRON

Public Affairs has been working to gather photos for their staff board, found within the JROTC hall, it remains empty. Historian has been working tirelessly to gather photos from cadets across all areas of the unit. About 80% of the photos needed have been collected and Historian is gathering the rest within the upcoming weeks. Planning began with a wobbly start, however is making solid progress. This also includes a new Assistant NCOIC for Planning, C/ Cambell. Aside from the jobs, Public Affairs has also updated the community service board to remind the upperclassmen of their hardworking and give the underclassmen a goal to strive towards.
